High School vs College

- Teachers present material to help you understand the content in the textbook.
- Time is managed by others.
- You will be reminded of assignments.
- Grades are based on your ability to comprehend what you were taught.

Professors may lecture non-stop providing background or supplementary information and/or research on the topic.

You manage your own time.

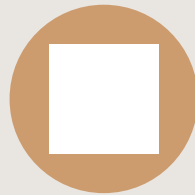

Professors expect you to read the syllabus/program.

Grades are based on your application of the concepts learned.
