

Studio Arts AA-T (IGETC GE Track)

+If you have completed coursework at another college and/or are starting in a semester other than a Fall term, please follow up with the Counseling Department to determine if this sequence is appropriate for your academic and career goals.

Program Description: The Art Department program at College of the Canyons provides students with introductory courses in the fine arts & art history. The Studio Arts ADT (Associates Degree for Transfer) offers both studio and lecture sections that are transferrable to the California State University and University of California, fulfilling lower division requirements for a BA at the freshman and sophomore levels. The art program provides a wide range of skills. Studio courses at the beginning and intermediate levels include: beginning drawing, life drawing, 2 & 3D design, sculpture, printmaking, painting and illustration. Art history and appreciation courses survey both the development of western art from the Paleolithic period to the present, and non-western traditions too. In addition to developing critical and creative skills, students have many opportunities to get involved in contemporary art culture. As part of the regular program, students will do many of the following activities: visit local art exhibits, artists' studios, private collections and art libraries, thereby gaining experience at review writing & criticism. The art gallery provides a program of up to five exhibitions a year that represents artistic diversity in culture and style and parallels the curriculum of the fine and applied arts departments at College of the Canyons. The gallery serves as an instructional tool and resource for all visual arts & art history courses and the college at large – supporting relationships with other academic departments and the community. The Student Transfer Achievement Reform Act \(SB 1440\)

Program SLO: Critically engage with the world of ideas, both historical and contemporary, enabling them to interpret and understand their place in the world as citizens and active participants in the expression of human culture and values.

Important Transfer Information: *The sequence listed below, may not meet all your transfer admissions requirements.
